

THE OFFICE OF KAT TAYLOR

CENTER FOR ECOLITERACY

TOMKAT
RANCH

nextgen
california

California
ASSOCIATION
Food
Banks
1624 Franklin Street, Suite 722
Oakland, CA 94612
(510) 272-4435
<http://cafoodbanks.org>

Family
Connections
Centers

NATIONAL FARM to SCHOOL
NETWORK

May 22, 2020

The Honorable Richard Roth
Chair, Budget Subcommittee on Education
State Capitol, Room 2080
Sacramento, CA 95814

Submitted via electronic mail

RE: Additional Disaster Response Funding for COVID-19 Emergency School Meals - SUPPORT

Dear Chairman Roth,

We now face the economic and public health fallout of the COVID-19 crisis. Thanks in no small part to the legislature's and the Governor's leadership, California has managed to flatten the curve and has entered into the initial stages of reopening our economy. However, the state now faces an unprecedented budget deficit, unemployment that rivals the Great Depression, and rising poverty. As a result, difficult decisions are being made in order to begin recovering from the virus, maintain our essential state functions, and continue to support those most in need. Despite these cutbacks, an adequate pandemic response must include state funding that gives our most under-resourced communities reliable and safe access to food.

We are writing to respectfully request additional funding in the 2020-21 California budget to provide flexible resources to all public school nutrition departments that face additional costs in feeding students during this public health crisis. It is imperative that we help prevent child hunger at a time when their families cannot afford to pay for food. As a coalition, we support increasing access to school meals for as many California kids as possible during the COVID-19 crisis. This additional funding can help keep school meal programs open, leveraging up to $2 billion of federal reimbursements that could be lost each year if school nutrition programs are serving fewer students or are forced to close.

During this time, access to food is one of the most basic human needs that must be met. Demand for food aid has increased eightfold in some areas amid this crisis, and lines of cars extend for miles from school sites and food banks, which are scrambling to meet the explosion in need. Schools have stepped up to provide meals to students in need, but current state funding does not account for the increased costs of feeding students during COVID-19 and the subsequent recovery. The pandemic has introduced new challenges and growing budget deficits for many school nutrition service departments as they continue to pay their staff, lose sources of revenue, and lack adequate personal protective equipment. Without intervention, school districts may have to choose between balanced budgets and providing meals for children who need it most.

This funding could be used to provide an additional state reimbursement for school meals, as well as personal protective equipment and training for school food service workers. These dollars are critical for helping students in need, keeping communities safe, and stimulating a struggling agricultural economy by encouraging purchases of California-grown food. Without adequate funding and formal safety plans, many schools could be forced to discontinue emergency meal service if an employee or volunteer tests positive, leaving critical federal dollars on the table.

The Federal Reserve identified that 40% of Americans making less than $40,000 a year have lost their jobs. Millions of Californians were living paycheck-to-paycheck — such as those working for restaurants, retail, and the ride-share industry — and they are seeing their incomes and livelihoods decimated due to COVID-19. The current budget deficit means difficult decisions will have to be made, but choosing to keep the children of our state from going hungry should not be one of them. Student nutrition has tremendous effects on educational achievement and quality of life outcomes later in life. Lack of access to healthy food is exacerbated by socio-economic status and most prevalent in low-income communities of color.¹ Providing financial resources to school nutrition programs ensures schools have the opportunity to play a vital role in keeping their communities fed, including traditionally under resourced children. We strongly support the inclusion of additional disaster response funding for school nutrition in the 2020-21 budget enacted in June.

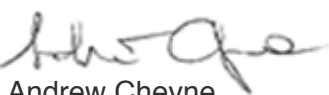

Respectfully,

Kat Taylor
Principal
The Office of Kat Taylor

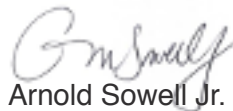

Kathy Webster
Food Advocacy Manager
TomKat Ranch

Andrew Cheyne
Director of Government Affairs
California Association of Food Banks

Adam Kesselman
Executive Director
Center for Ecoliteracy

Arnold Sowell Jr.
Executive Director
NextGen California

Christopher Helfrich
Chief Executive Officer
Eat. Learn. Play. Foundation

¹ http://thefoodtrust.org/uploads/media_items/access-to-healthy-food.original.pdf

Yensing Sihapanya
Executive Director
Family Connections Centers

Krystal Oriadha
Senior Director of Programs and Policy
National Farm to School Network

Lisa Davis
Senior Vice President
No Kid Hungry National

Katie Albright
Chief Executive Officer
Safe & Sound

Deborah Kravitz
Director, Nutrition Services
Del Norte Unified School District

Laurel Goins
Director, Food Services
Lucia Mar Unified School District

Micha James
Director, Nutrition Services
Monterey Peninsula Unified School District

Dre Maher
Food Services Coordinator
Nevada City School of the Arts

Naomi Shadwell MS, RDN
Director of Nutrition Services
Oceanside Unified School District

Brenda Ruiz
President
Sacramento Food Policy Council

Erin Primer
Director of Food & Nutrition Services
San Luis Coastal Unified School District

Aimee Retzler
Co-director
Sierra Harvest

Mario Paz
Executive Director
Good Samaritan Family Resource Center

Rita Mancera
Executive Director
Puente

Mark Mendoza
Child Nutrition Services, Director
Cajon Valley Union School District

Gail Gousha
Director, Nutrition Services
Escondido Union School District

Lisa Corner
Food Services Supervisor
Millbrae School District

Vince Caguin
Director of Nutrition Services and Warehousing
Natomas Unified School District

Carole Ly
Director of Student Nutrition
Oak Park Unified School District

Emelia Miguel
Food Service Director
Pacific Elementary School District

Gary Petill
Director of Food and Nutrition Services
San Diego Unified School District

Amy Hedrick-Farr
Director of Nutrition Services
Santa Cruz City Schools

CC:

The Honorable Connie M. Leyva
Senate Budget Subcommittee on Education

The Honorable Mike Morrell
Senate Budget Subcommittee on Education

The Honorable Holly J. Mitchell
Chair, Senate Budget Committee

The Honorable Jim Nielsen
Vice Chair, Senate Budget Committee